

ROBYN MAYNARD: POLICING BLACK LIVES

Community Discussion & Book Launch
Free & Open to All

Wed., Feb. 7, 2018

6:30-8:30 pm

3M Centre, room 3250

Western University

Copies of Policing Black Lives available at The Book Store at Western UCC, Lower Level and from Fernwood Publishing

Additional Speakers

ROWA MOHAMED is a multidisciplinary Black Muslim feminist activist, organizer, and anti-oppression educator. She is a facilitator with a passion for community building and empowering all women.

SUZE MORRISON works in communications in the Indigenous non-profit sector. She is a community activist, and is currently running for the provincial NDP nomination in Toronto Centre.

Supported by: Black History Month, Black Students' Association, Women's Events Committee, Writing Across Walls, Western Program in American Studies, Western Program in Postcolonial Studies